

How it feels to work for Bron Afon

These are some of the things that staff at Bron Afon are saying:

“I always thought that working for an organisation where your opinion matters and is listened to, where the team of people you work with do actually really care and work tirelessly to improve things for their tenants and residents was a myth...until I came to Bron Afon!”

Gemma Wallace
Personal Assistant

“Expectations are very high, but it’s not daunting as you can feel that the whole organisation is pulling in the same direction. For the first time in years we are able to do the right thing for tenants — rather than come up with innovative ways to say ‘No’.”

Dave Sharman
Director of Property

“I enjoy working in the new office and it’s nice for us all to be under one roof in pleasant surroundings. Rather than phoning here and there; we can now get the answer directly, which is good. I have also found it positive with the tenants and communities because we are able to get things done much more quickly.”

Emma Peploe
Community Housing Officer

“I LOVE my job.”

Mandie Adams
Liaison Officer

“I feel connected to other members of staff at Bron Afon, where I really feel we have shared aims and goals and are working together to get there. My day gets disturbed by other people trying to get there too. That’s kind of how it feels. Different roles same goals.”

Mervyn Green
Partnering and Procurement Manager.

“It’s refreshing to work for an organization where people actually speak to you and not at you.”

Martin Asquith
Head of Community Housing

“Because we have always worked remotely from headquarters, it always felt like we were out on a limb. This all changed when we transferred to Bron Afon. I finally feel like I’m part of the work force, the communication has improved and our opinions are getting listened to.”

Michelle Russ
Sheltered Housing Officer

“As Bron Afon we have the freedom to go the extra mile for tenants.”

Jason Smith
Senior Electrical Surveyor

“For me Bron Afon is a realisation of working with tenants in partnership to deliver their aspirations for the future.”

Lorraine Mallory
Senior Community Housing Officer

“I’ve enjoyed the flexibility of being able to tailor my working day to suit my family commitments; it really cuts down on stress.”

Clare Viner
Receptionist

“It’s a challenging and exciting environment where I feel valued and supported.”

Tanya Aicardi
Community Involvement Officer

“It’s an honour and a privilege to work with such fantastic people.”

Duncan Forbes
Chief Executive

“Bron Afon is a really positive place. I feel spoilt to work with great people in a lovely new office. It’s a pleasure to come to work.”

Kelly Rosser
Systems Trainer

“Working in Bron Afon gives you the opportunity to cut through bureaucracy and red tape; to make decisions, get to the heart of the matter and get things done. Bron Afon is a place where everyone is encouraged to and can make a difference.”

Ceri Jones
Head of Specialist Housing

“It’s a new start, new community and a new environment to work in. It’s nice to be able to say ‘Yes’ to tenants!”

Adam Walsh
Helpdesk Operative

“Bron Afon is great place to work! I love working for an organisation that is challenging, exciting, full of fabulous people and has the opportunity to make such a big difference in Torfaen. Saying ‘Yes’ a lot is very motivating!”

Liz Evans
Community Involvement Manager
